

BRAIN BREAKS

Purpose: To help students learn that our brain needs need physical and mental breaks throughout the day.

Steps for Getting It Done:

- Hold a conversation with students, letting them know that in your classroom it is okay to take short mental breaks to reenergize the brain for continuous learning.
- As a class, generate a list of Brain Break suggestions and create a classroom sign-up chart. Use the next page as a template for your sign-up and activity chart.
- Invite students to sign up to lead the class in a Brain Break activity. Try to engage as many students as possible to become break leaders.
- Keep the focus on sharing and helping to get reenergized, rather than just “free time”.

Sign Up for Brain Breaks
Week Of:	Brain Break Activity	Leader(s)
	Tell a Joke
	Lead a Stretch
	Read a Poem
	Lead or Teach a Cheer
	Sing or Lead a Song
	Follow the Leader
	Lead a Dance Move
	Other

Add as many rows as needed.